'This is justice for Julia'

Life in prison for killer of Peace Corps woman

By Florio Guzman
Reporter for New York Times

DANAU, PHILIPPINES—JUSTICE CAME FOR JULIA CAMPBELL, a Peace Corps volunteer who grew up a protestant in the United States to work with the poor in the Philippines but found death instead on a desecrated mountain trail in the 1980s.

In judge, found the accused guilty of murder, the man argued in the court that the victim was not a Peace Corps volunteer but a tourist who was killed on a mountain trail.

Cigarette ad ban in media starts today

Business News

MANILA, July 27 (PNA) - The Department of Health (DOH) has issued a final order requiring all media outlets to stop airing cigarette advertisements starting today. The order, which is part of a broader campaign to reduce smoking-related health issues, mandates that all commercial and public service announcements featuring tobacco products be removed from television, radio, and print media. The DOH Secretary, Francisco Duque III, stated that this move is a significant step towards protecting public health and reducing the financial burden of smoking-related diseases on the healthcare system. The ban applies to all forms of advertising, including direct product placement and indirect references to tobacco products. Media outlets are given a 30-day period to comply with the order, after which non-compliance may result in legal action.

After cheaper meds, Congress to aid parents

By Chemistry Department

MANILA, July 27 (PNA) - The House of Representatives is expected to pass a bill that will provide financial assistance to parents of children with chronic illnesses. The bill, known as the Chronic Illness Assistance Act, aims to ease the financial burden on families by providing subsidies for medical expenses, including hospitalization, medication, and specialized treatments. The bill also includes provisions for mental health support and counseling services for affected families. The House Committee on Health has already approved the bill, and it is now being moved forward to the full House for a vote. The Department of Health has expressed its support for the bill, stating that it is a crucial step in ensuring that all children have access to the care they need. The bill is expected to be passed by the end of the year.

Rina reaps the sweet rewards of yoga

By Rina R. Herrera

I T'S TIME TO GET UP. The sun is shining brightly, and the birds are chirping. It's a beautiful morning, and Rina is feeling great. She is sitting on the floor, legs crossed, and she is smiling. She is feeling the benefits of yoga. She is feeling the benefits of yoga. She is feeling the benefits of yoga. She is feeling the benefits of yoga.

With arms raised, Rina is in a yoga pose. She is feeling the benefits of yoga. She is feeling the benefits of yoga. She is feeling the benefits of yoga. She is feeling the benefits of yoga.

She has helped others, easing everything from scoliosis to depression and asthma.

Hairloss is wrecking her life and she doesn't know why.

When hair loss is a woman's problem, it's not just a cosmetic issue. It's a life-altering experience that can affect a woman's self-esteem, relationships, and even her career.

For many women, hair loss is a sudden and unexpected event. One day, they wake up and find that their hair is falling out in clumps. They try everything they can think of to stop it, but nothing seems to work.

It's a frustrating and often lonely experience. Many women feel that they are losing a part of themselves. They may feel that they are no longer attractive or that they are losing control of their lives.

But there is hope. With the right treatment and support, many women are able to regrow their hair and feel like themselves again. It's important to seek out a professional who can help you understand the cause of your hair loss and provide you with the best possible treatment.

Remember, you are not alone. Many other women have experienced hair loss and have found a way to cope with it. You can too. With the right help and support, you can get your hair back and feel like yourself again.

Find out how to help your hair
